

MORNING APPEAL.

THURSDAY.....MARCH 11, 1880

THE SAN FRANCISCO VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

The old time Vigilance Committee is forming in San Francisco for the ostensible purpose of stamping out Kearneyism. That Kearney and his idle and shiftless constituency should be stamped out, no one denies; but in a State as old as California, a committee of private citizens is taking a good deal upon itself when it essays to grasp the reins of government without going through the proper forms laid down by the law. That there are at present large numbers of men in San Francisco who ought to be hung, there can be no doubt. So long as the right men are strung up, no one will complain. The committee now forming to exterminate Kearney and his followers are roused to action because the agitation has affected their pockets. They are a class of men, who, so long as finances are easy, care but little about law and order. They do not object to Kearney half so much as they deplore the fact that his agitation has made times hard. For years past there has been a class of men who systematically plundered the city of San Francisco by jobs, rings and steals of all descriptions, but no one complained, because they spent the money freely which they acquired dishonestly and all was well. Flood is charged with robbing the people of the city indiscriminately and he has become unpopular; not because he was calculating, mercenary and dishonest, but because he declined to spend his money in proportion to his vast income. Hence the howl. San Francisco has abounded with brokers, who, year after year swindled their customers by means of a hundred and one petty devices known only to the few, and there has never been any talk of hanging them nor has any committee of citizens essayed to regulate them. So long as times were good and money plenty, there was no growling from any source. Men may sell out their constituents for coin, and so long as they spend the money "with the boys," there will be no special objection. The Kearneyites seeing that they were getting poorer and poorer every year vowed that they would make money tight with everybody else. Everything ran along smoothly until capital began to grasp money with a closer grip; everybody began to feel the stringency and now it is proposed to form a vigilance committee to stop it. The trouble down in San Francisco rests in the fact that there isn't money enough to satisfy everybody. Each man wants it all instead of being content with little or enough. The poorer classes have long felt the gripings of hard times and nobody got interested in their troubles. Now the higher classes are made to feel what it is to be stinted and when they have been obliged to substitute California claret on their tables instead of Burgundy, they realize that the country is going to the dogs, and a vigilance committee is necessary to right their wrongs. They do not realize that part of their wealth has been absorbed by a wealthier class than themselves. The best way to settle the present difficulties is for the rich to begin to spend the money they have been hoarding up and adopt a broader and more liberal basis upon which to deal with the laboring classes. Let the newspapers stop reporting the doings of Kearney, and in a few weeks the clouds which over-shadow the business interests would dissolve, and prosperity and good times would follow the present business stagnation. There is no need of all this fuss over the threats of Kearney. There has been a law passed compelling corporations to employ nothing but white labor, and the Kearneyites at present are only asking that the law be enforced. Now let the Committee of Safety see that the law is enforced, after which there will be no excuse for Kearney or his agitations.

NEWSPAPER VOLUMES.—The Bodie Free Press, having entered upon its second volume, proclaims the fact in rather more than a column of self-laudation. The Free Press is a bright, newsy sheet, and should let other people praise it. The custom of papers entering upon each new volume with a blare of trumpets twice a year and then copying all the good things their exchanges say about them is a practice which ought to be abolished by the press generally. The APPEAL has just entered its sixteenth volume, but does not venture for a moment to remark that its forthcoming numbers will be any better than those long passed, probably not as good. It does not consider entering upon a new volume a very remarkable feat of journalism and will not feel aggrieved if its contemporaries do not choose to say just at this time that it is "able," "fearless," "vigorous" and "spicy," from the fact that these terms of journalistic endearment have been worn threadbare on nearly every newspaper of the State and everybody is getting tired of them.

The Bodie road will, in all probability, not be built. Mills laid in a supply of iron for the purpose, but that commodity suddenly rose in value and he could not resist the temptation to sell for a large and sure profit. It is rumored that he has disposed of it to the Canadian Pacific at an advance of $160,000.

A surveying party have started south from Battle Mountain to select the best route for the Nevada Southern railroad.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Bristol District is attracting considerable attention.

Parnell sails for Europe to-day, but will return to America after the election.

The ex-Empress Eugenie leaves for Zulu-land on the 26th. She will stop at St. Helena on the return voyage.

Picche has sent a telegram to Washington, protesting against cutting off its daily mail and substituting a weekly.

The ladies of Battle Mountain propose to get up a Leap Year party on the 17th, to purchase an organ for the lyceum.

Adin is to have a church, which shall be owned and built by the public, and free to ministers of all denominations.

An Englishman named Stanton is in the small-pox hospital at San Francisco, afflicted with leprosy contracted in India.

Another body was cremated in Le Moyne's oven, at Washington, Penn., on Tuesday—Dr. Samuel Hahn, of New York.

The artesian well at the Battle Mountain round house, throws a stream six or seven feet high, and from a distance looks like a fountain.

Mr. M. M. Glenn has purchased the Esmeralda Herald. Mr. John M. Dormer, the former editor, goes to Candelaria to establish a new paper.

Colby, the Santa Cruz murderer, was executed on the 5th. He maintained to the last that the murder for which he was convicted was committed in self defense.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: The Grampion mine, Frisco, adjoining the Horn Silver, and promising to develop into a good property, was sold last week for $250,000.

The company supporting Adelina Patti at the Gaithe theatre in Paris is so poor that it is proposed to cancel the operatic engagement and substitute a series of concerts.

An assay of rock taken from a Prospect Mountain mine last Thursday, gave a return of $10,000 to the ton. The matter is being kept a secret until the extent of the find can be demonstrated.

Says the Silver State: A Winnemucca lady while in San Francisco recently, lost her purse containing about $150 in money. She advertised her loss in the papers, and left the city for home. Two days ago she received the wallet and money by express, they having been found by what many did not believe existed in San Francisco—an honest policeman.

Three young Zulu women are now at the London Aquarium. One of the three dusky ladies claims Cetewayo for her father, and wears her hair somewhat longer than that of her companions, in evidence of her royal descent. The names which they bear are musical, and express qualities or relate to some incident, after the fashion of the old Hebrew names—Unolala, Unomadlala, and Uaozodaba. One refers to the owner's mother having passed through some trial or suffering, and another means that its bearer is as sweet as honey. The ladies share with their more civilized sisters a taste for personal adornment. Their manners are gentle and prepossessing, and their demeanor is in marked contrast with that of the exuberantly gay and noisy masculine members of the troupe. It is noteworthy that the men do not allow their female companions to eat with them, the subjection of women being carried out among the Zulus. The husband buys his wife, paying her father so many cows; but the women appear to have secured the important right of refusing or accepting the lover.

Chauncey Slater, a foreman at the shop of the Elastic Frog Company, in Mansfield, Conn. has fallen heir to $100,000. A few days ago he received a note for nearly the whole amount. He put it in his pocket, and kept on at his work. He tells his fellow workmen that he intends to remain at his work, wearing his working clothes, and not imitating in any way the behavior of Coal Oil Johnny and the great caravan of which he was a type.

The California State Democratic Club have issued a circular warning the people of the country against the supremacy of a "strong man" under whose rule the military authority will predominate over the civil rule. Considering the fact that the army of the United States is a mere shadow the circular has a profoundly ridiculous aspect.

Vienna, March 10.—The ice on the Vistula river is accumulating. On the Austro-Russian frontier, near Dzikow, the river broke through the dike and flooded thirty villages, some of which were completely destroyed. Thousands of persons are without shelter or food. Many cattle are lost.

The Reno Gazette states explicitly that it is not owned by the Central Pacific Railway Co. It is rumored that its editor is Land Appraiser for that corporation and receives a salary of $520 a month for his services. If this is not a fact the APPEAL will willingly publish the editor's denial.

D. O. Mills has given $1,000 to the David Bush fund for the employment of the needy in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. This is creditable to Mr. Mills and it is a pleasure to publish the fact. We hope to have other occasions for commending his generosity.

EVERYBODY seems to acknowledge that F. G. Cotton, who committed suicide, in despair, at Oakland, last Thursday, was a very fine fellow (now he is dead), and we suppose there are plenty of his acquaintances going around saying, "Why, poor fellow, if I had known he was in any such trouble, or wanted money so badly, I would have helped him," when they wouldn't have done anything of the kind. They would have said: "Nothing would give me greater pleasure, my dear boy, but I am sorry to say," etc., etc.—Stockton Mail.
